

Parking permits: who does what

The city of Ghent sells residents' parking permits online. The diagram shows the people and systems that use the service and what each one does.

Officers check plates from a handheld device; the check returns valid or not valid and nothing else about the resident.